TOO MANY LOVE SONGS

Heartbreak is a painful process
 Just when you think that you're making progress
 Track one on the path to happy, then you put on Patsy
 Just when you're close to closure
 Damn if you don't flip the record over
 You rip that wound back open, 'cause the record's broken

Too many love songs in the world
 Too many lost and lonely girls
 In a sweatshirt on the couch
 Tryna cry it out
 Too many slow dance anthems
 It'll hold your heart for ransom
 It ain't easy moving on
 There's too many love songs
 Too many love songs
 I'm tryna move on
 There's too many love songs

You gotta give 4 quarts to credit
 For a worldwide goodbye at the dump
 Hell, we're all victims
 Damn you Bob Dylan
 Right when you don't wanna hear it
 Right when you turn out the light
 Here comes that hit and run lyric
 One more time

Too many love songs in the world
 Too many lost and lonely girls
 In a sweatshirt on the couch
 Tryna cry it out
 Too many slow dance anthems
 It'll hold your heart for ransom
 It ain't easy moving on

There's too many love songs (too many love songs)
 Too many love songs (too many love songs)
 I'm tryna move on
 But there's too many love songs
 (Too many love songs)
 (Too many love songs)

Wake up and face the music
 He ain't coming back
 Wake up and face the music
 Nothing's wrong with that
 Wake up and face the music
 This song ain't even sad
 I think I'm OK
 And then I hit play

Too many love songs in the world
 Too many lost and lonely girls
 In a sweatshirt on the couch
 Tryna cry it out
 Too many slow dance anthems
 It'll hold your heart for ransom
 It ain't easy moving on
 There's too many love songs (too many love songs)
 Too many love songs (too many love songs)
 I'm tryna move on
 But there's too many love songs
 There's too many love songs (too many love songs)
 There's too many love songs (too many love songs)
 I'm tryna be strong
 But there's too many love songs
