

JIM DEVINE IRELAND'S TURNING COUNTRY SONG

Oh Ireland's turning country, that's the word out on the street.
And everywhere you go toes are tapping to
the beat,
All across the nation, when the weekend
comes around.
They're out there country jiving, in the cities and the towns.

Now when the band begins to play everybosity
hits the floor,
When the music's over they all shout for
more.

Oh Ireland's turning country everywhere
you go,
From Cork right up to Donegal from Dublin
to Mayo.
Me and my band gonna cross the land we're
putting on a show.
People say it's here to stay, Ireland's
turning country.

I met a pretty little jiving queen at the country dance one night, I asked her on the floor and we danced all through the night.
When we went slow dancing she held me so tight.
Now we've been together since she danced
into my life

Now when the band begins to play everybosity
hits the floor,
When the music's over they all shout for
more.

Oh Ireland's turning country everywhere
you go,
From Cork right up to Donegal from Dublin
to Mayo.
Me and my band gonna cross the land we're
putting on a show.
People say it's here to stay, Ireland's
turning country.

Now when the band begins to play everybody
hits the floor,
When the music's over they all shout for
more.

Oh Ireland's turning country everywhere
you go,
From Cork right up to Donegal from Dublin
to Mayo.
Me and my band gonna cross the land we're
putting on a show.
People say it's here to stay, Ireland's
turning country.
